

I am very discouraged to learn that Sinclair Broadcasting Group will be airing "Stolen Honor", a bias, partisan political attack on John Kerry. This blatant misuse of the public airwaves entrusted to them is both unfair and un-American. If any station fails to uphold the trust granted to them through their broadcast license, I will, of course boycott that station and any sponsors associated with the program. But I would also like to call the FCC's attention to this misuse of a public resource, and believe the FCC should consider revoking Sinclair's broadcast license. Please consider the damage such a propaganda campaign does to our democracy when opposing voices are silenced because they lack the money to buy influence. I respect the FCC's role as guardian of the public interest and therefore call on you to take clear and decisive action in this matter.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
